Artist's STATEMENT

Manon Labrosse is a visual artist working mainly with acrylic paint. After graduating from her honor's degree in Visual Arts at the University of Ottawa, Manon continued to work on a series of paintings inspired by her nostalgia for her childhood in Northern Ontario and life in the city.

With influences from Malevitch, Reinhardt and contemporary artist Stanley Donwood, Manon created her desolate landscapes, always peppered with telephone poles and power lines.

She has had a few solo exhibitions, her most recent being "Le paysage désolé et les pylônes" at galerie Art-Image in Gatineau QC, featured in articles in the Ottawa Citizen, Le Droit and Franco Ontarian arts and culture magazine, Liaisons.

With a third grant from the City of Ottawa, Manon is now working towards a new series of landscapes inspired by more personal and specific memories of the northern landscape.
